About Us:

FPS has been a formidable supplier of knowledge and experience in both the domestic and international markets of Fire Protection, Safety and Design expertise. We are recognized around the world for our diverse services and product lines covering the New Construction, Maritime, Offshore, O&G, Industrial and Commercial industries. Since our beginnings in 1952, we have provided the marine and petrochemical industries in Houston, Texas with the experience and knowledge to directly service the GOM while being the lead provider of Turn Key jobs around the world for our customers. Our reputation of getting the job done, and our experience of global regulations have taken us to every continent. With our team of NICET Certified and US factory trained personnel for our Domestic lines, and our trained and certified personnel on the many International Manufactured systems for our imported lines, there is nothing to chance when it comes to what we can provide to our customers. We pride ourselves on having the knowledge, personnel and equipment needed to accommodate a total geographical customer base.

Learning from the Marine industry, the days of only covering the US fleets has long passed. FPS has made a point to keep in mind all areas of operations and points of vessel construction to better diversify our service and commodities. Our sales associates experience and technician training in both domestic and international regulations along with our ability to supply a vast assortment of commodities in all areas has kept FPS a key provider of all Maritime and Industrial needs.
